OUR HISTORY

My name is Josefa, but everyone knows me as "Mrs. Chepita". I grew up in a peasant family, from my father I learned to harvest cocoa directly in the field, in addition to recognizing and savoring the different varieties. From my mother I learned the complete process to make cocoa powder, from drying it, roasting it and grinding it, all of this by hand. In addition to learning the delicious recipe for handmade chocolate.

Over time I raised my family and established Farm the Virgin, located in the quiet community of La Argentina of Pocora.
